14-story condo proposed at Lakeshore

BY BENNIE
SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

The owner's of Islander Marina and Terry's Seafood in the Lakeshore community are proposing a large condominium project for the same area. Islander Condominiums/Kirk Ladner and family, have applied to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for a permit to fill in 1.8 acres of herbaceous non-tidal wetlands to build a two-tower, 14 story, 208 unit building on a seven and a half acre piece of property they own near the intersection of Beach Blvd. and Lakeshore Rd.

"We have a brand new beautiful beach and want to get started on the project," said Kirk Ladner on Wednesday.

Ladner said that 14 stories is the proposed height but that the range could go from 12 or 13 to 16 stories depending on the results of engineering surveys. The surveys would indicate how much weight the ground in the area could accommodate.

Also included with the project would be a pool and recreation area, probably located on the third floor, and a two story parking garage. Units would be two and three bedrooms and offered in three or four floor plans, Ladner said, depending on the buyers preferences.

Mitigation for the wetlands fill would be done on site, Ladner said, and include the restoration of 2.33 acres of other wetlands to a more natural state.

Ladner said it would likely take another year to go through the various permitting processes. After that the condominiums could enter the marketing phase. Before construction begins, 60 percent or so of the units would need to be put under a preliminary contract. Once that number is reached contracts would be firmed up and construction could begin. The process is standard with projects of this kind, he said, to secure funding.

A casino complex about 700 yards down the beach and a casino boat, currently docked in the sound are also proposed projects in the area. None of the projects have submitted site plans to the county planning and zoning office for approval.

Comments on the wetlands permit should be made before July 6 to Corps Project Manager Larry Godwin at 251-690-3262 or in writing to District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, Mobile, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, AL 36628-0001, Attention Regulatory Branch. Mention number MS04-01340-G when commenting.

Investigators concerned about number of recent dog attacks

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

From May 30 to June 6, six dog bites have been reported to the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, according to Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt.

"In all my years of law enforcement in Hancock County, I cannot recall so many reported dog bites. This has reached epidemic portions," Hurt said.

"Dogs are out of control. Owners of the animals need to make sure their pets are properly restrained. I hate to see anyone bitten by a dog, especially young children," Hurt said.

"I still think about the young girl bitten on June 3, residing of Carriere in Hancock County, who had to have facial reconstruction from a dog bite."

In Sunday's edition of The Echo, Hurt had reported three other dog bite incidents.

The latest dog bites occurred on June 5 and 6th, Hurt said.

On June 5, a 10-year-old was bitten by a pit bull on Warren Street in Bayside Park.

An adult was bitten on June 6 on CC Road, Kiln.

To add to the dog bites, Hurt also reported a cat biting incident occurred on June 7.

A resident of Lauderdale Street in Bayside Park, who said her young daughter was bitten on the calf of her leg and clawed by a stray cat, Hurt said.

The lady said she had a habit of taking in stray cats, one appeared on her porch and was left into the residence. Once inside the biting and clawing happened. The dog warden picked up the stray cat," Hurt said.

Hurt warned, "We will be issuing citations in dog biting cases when owners of the animals are identified."

"There are many dog owners in our county and (the dogs) are family pets. The vast majority of the dogs are well taken care of and cause no problems to anyone. It's just a few of the animals that are not properly controlled," Hurt said.

Stolen boat recovered in Alabama

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Shoreline Park resident's boat, motor and trailer were recovered in Irvington, AL, one suspect arrested and a warrant issued for a second. According to Hancock County Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt.

"The boat, motor and trailer were valued at $33,000, and reported missing by its owner on May 20," Hancock Investigator Tom Roan, who is handling the case, said Friday.

Roan said, "Good information supplied by Shoreline Park witnesses and Irvington, AL, residents, helped in locating the missing boat."

"The boat was at the Shoreline Park residence a period of time. Witnesses reported they saw two men and two kids in a dark blue, or black truck hook up to the trailer and drive away," Roan said his investigation revealed.

Roan continued, "Witnesses said they saw a truck drive into the woods with a boat on it. Then the truck left the area with just the trailer, and identification was made on the driver."

Terrance Morales is being held in Irvington, while a warrant has been issued for the arrest of his brother Rodney Morales by the Mobile Sheriff's Department, which is also being assisted by the Alabama Marine Police, Roan said.

"At Terrance Morales residence officers found the motor, console and trailer."

The Hancock County Sheriff's department will seek extradition on the brothers, Roan added.

Cocaine sale, chase land three in jail

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

On Tuesday, three Waveland residents were arrested in connection with the sale of crack cocaine to a confidential informant, (C.I.), according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

"Agent Ahe Long of the Coastal Narcotics Enforcement team, contacted me to say he had a confidential informant coming in with information of people selling crack in the Bay and Waveland area," Major Matt Karl, director of the Hancock County Sheriff's Narcotics Division reported.

"Our agents, along with the Agent Long and the C.I., were given money to make the purchase. The C.I. took the money and under our surveillance, met two males on Herlihy Street in Waveland. They then took the C.I. to Water Street, where the suspected seller resided and made the purchase," Karl's report said.

Karl continued, "The two quickly fled the area and Agent Johnny Alison attempted to stop them and a high-speed pursuit began. The chase down Central Avenue involved several agents, sheriff's officers and both Waveland and Bay St. Louis Police officers."

"During the chase, the marked bills were tossed out the window by the two suspects and the chase ended in Bay St. Louis. Agents recovered the tossed bills," Karl added.

Arrested at the Water Street residence was Allen James Thomas, 38, who was charged with sale of a controlled substance, with a bond set at $10,000, but Thomas is being held without bond because of a probation violation, Karl said. The two who fled in the

Golf tourney aids cancer tests at HMC

Thanks to the ongoing efforts of a hardworking group of Bay St. Louis women, several hundred local residents received mammography testing at no charge or for a nominal fee.

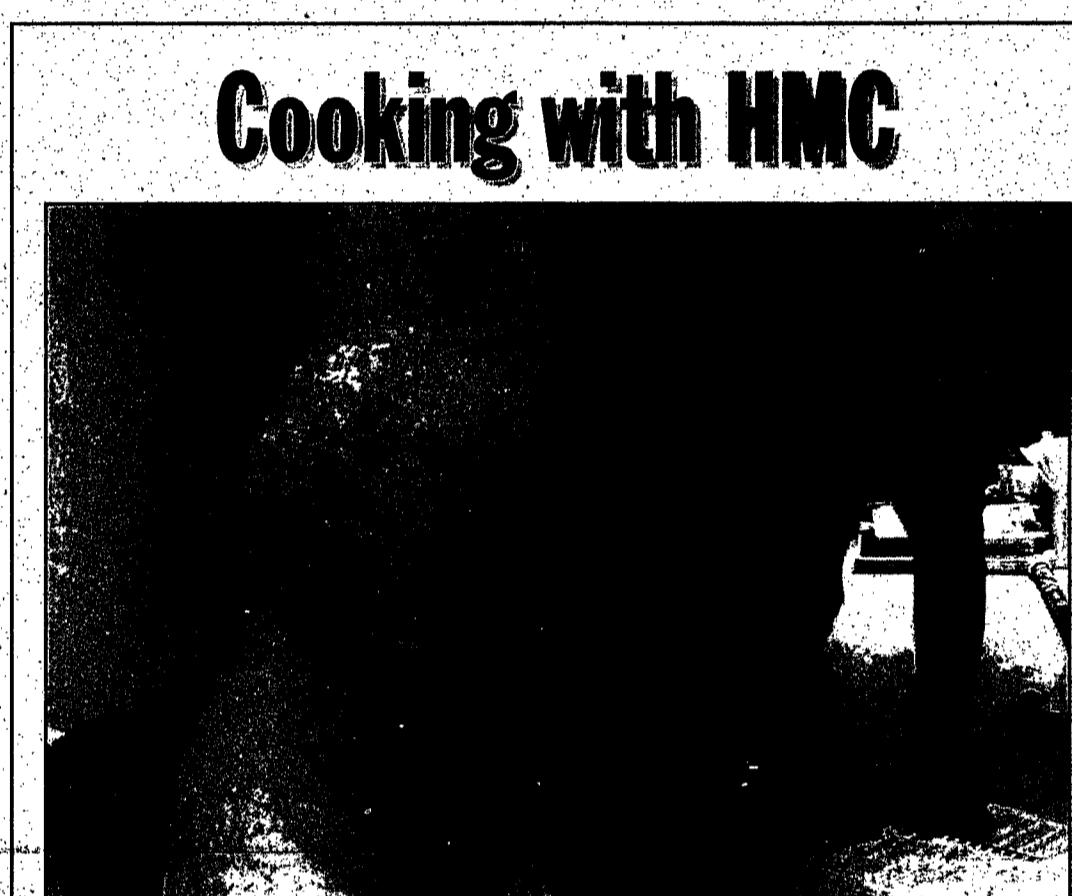

Donations to the Hancock Medical Center Foundation's Mammography Assistance Program enable qualifying women to access this essential health screening.

"We don't want any woman to go without this necessary test because she can't afford it," said local "Pride With A Purpose" co-founder Linda Tucker.

Tucker said most of her friends have had someone in their lives touched by breast cancer. Many with positive outcomes live normally today because of early detection.

"I have had too many women tell me they 'can't afford it' as a reason for not having an annual mammogram. Lots of women work, but don't have insurance benefits, and are not old enough for Medicare or don't qualify for Medicaid," said Tucker. "These are the ones we want to take advantage of this program."

Women may be referred to the program through Coastal Family Health in Bay St. Louis.

Local artist Ray Stieffel Friday, autographs a fresh-off the press Cooking with Hancock Medical Center cookbook for Mrs. Edna Kleinpeter, longtime HMC Volunteer. Stieffel provided the artwork on the cover of the cookbook, which has over 650 recipes from HMC employees, physicians, physician's office staff and volunteers. HMC's Foundation will receive the proceeds from the sales. The cookbooks are on sale at HMC at $15 each. For more information, call 467-8790.

Residents will have an opportunity to support the Mammography Assistance Program by competing in the second annual "Golf With A Purpose" scramble tournament Friday, June 18 at the award winning Bridges Golf Course at Casino Magic, Bay St. Louis. A 9 a.m. shotgun start is planned.

Fee is $65 per golfer, which includes an event t-shirt and picnic lunch. Hole sponsorships are available for $100. Sponsor signs will also be on display during a two-day outdoor festival on the golf tournament organizers' grounds at 1205 Blue Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis.

Live music, volleyball competition, arts, crafts and food will be featured Saturday and Sunday, June 19-20 beginning at noon each day. Admission is $10 each day, according to event organizer Charlene Schneider.

For additional information, or to register for the golf tournament, call (228) 467-7298.

Prominent citizens to be arrested to fund research for heart disease and stroke

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The American Heart Association (AHA) is putting Bay St. Louis and Waveland residents under lock and key, on June 18, the AHA along with the Volunteer Cardiac Arrest "Parole Board" will be holding the annual Cardiac Arrest. This event will be held at Kmart, 344 Highway 90 West from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Cardiac Arrest "Parole Board" member Lesly Barrow says the Bay St. Louis/Waveland Cardiac Arrest is unique, as it combines fund raising and fun into one event.

"A group of very important citizens will turn themselves in and be charged at the Cardiac Arrest for 'crimes of the heart' Barrow said.

"In order to be released, the 'arrestees' must post bail." The purpose of this event is to acquire donations, which will assist the American Heart Association in its mission of reducing death and disability due to cardiovascular disease (CVD) and stroke by 25% by the year 2010. CVD is every 33 seconds.

America's number one killer, claiming one life

According to Barrow, "the American Heart Association supports over $9 million in valuable biomedical research to universities in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi including grants to various schools of medicine and teaching hospitals.

The American Heart Association has also developed useful educational programs targeted toward all ages in order to teach them how to combat heart and blood vessel diseases." Mrs. Barrow also stated, "The work done by AHA research has led to advanced cardiovascular medicine in areas that include blood pressure medication, surgical procedures, nutritional standards and exercise modification. Lives are saved everyday thanks to the work done which has been funded by the money collected at events like this through the years.

Mrs. Barrow stated that the Cardiac Arrest "Parole Board" hopes to reach a goal of $15,000 to help support AHA research, education and community service programs to fight cardiovascular disease.

Train -- deaths

CSX is responsible for the deaths of their loved ones.

In his opening statement, plaintiff's attorney John Grazier said, "They're dead because the railroad killed them. There's no doubt that the car would have made it across the crossing had it not got stuck."

Grazier's first witness, Robert Patton of 31 Gentilly Terrace, which has a clear view of the Webb St. Crossing, was the first person on the scene. He said he had just returned home when his girlfriend yelled to him that someone's car had been hit by a train.

Patton said he then drove down to Alcan Cable, which he judged to be a quarter of a mile down the road.

"The train was stopped, and had a car parked on the rails in front of it," he said.

Patton said he opened the door, and found Bilbo, Finegan and Wimminham inside, dead.

In the 13 years he had lived on Gentilly Terrace, Patton said, he had seen several other cars get stuck in the grade crossing.

Patrick Buchanan, an attorney from CSX, urged the jury in his opening statements not to regard CSX as a faceless company.

"There is no invisible entity that is CSX," Buchanan said. "It is the people that live and work in your community."

Buchanan said the defense intends to prove that an oncoming train could easily have been seen from the crossing, and that the collision was a result of driver error.

He did, however, acknowledge the plaintiffs' terrible loss.

"This is a tragic case," Buchanan said. "(The plaintiffs) are very fine people. We are not going to say that these are bad people. But just because this is a tragedy, it doesn't mean that there is liability."

The case is expected to continue this week.

New farmer's market opens Sunday

A New Farmer's Market starts this Sunday in the parking lot of the Bay/Waveland Kmart at the corner of Highway 90 and 608 in Waveland.

The market will be open to the public from 7:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. It will be held each Sunday through October.

Recent leisure studies have shown a need for Farmer's Markets to be held on days other than weekdays and Sundays has seen a large increase in open air markets.

Sundays allows the younger working crowd to attend this great outdoor activity.

"It's a perfect fit for the Mississippi Gulf Coast and especially for the Hancock County tourism market", stated Steve Howard, General Manager of the Bay/Waveland Kmart. "It will be just another great reason to visit Hancock County, especially on a Sunday".

A local survey was recently completed at the store that indicated numerous produce vendors would like the opportunity to participate, and many respondents stated that they would visit a produce market on Sunday morning.

It is hoped that a coffee/pastry vendor will participate to round out the morning event.

Howard invited any interested vendors to call the store at 228-467-2113 to make space reservations. Reservations will be required the first couple of Sundays until all logistics for the event have been completed.

Products will be limited to what is grown or produced in the garden and other items common to a Farmer's markets such as eggs, homemade jellies and preserves.

Boom -- Bay beach building

beach.

The properties are a key part of a multi-million plan the city has to bolster downtown business activity. As financing becomes available, leaders want to build a boardwalk stretching in both directions along the beach, a "finger pier" to accommodate short-term boat traffic, and a parking garage with some retail spaces in front.

Meanwhile, area residents should see construction begin this summer on a four-story structure between Trapani's Restaurant and the vacant movie theater at State Street and North Beach Boulevard.

The building will include six hotel rooms and four condominiums that may be rented as hotel accommodations too.

Design plans shown council and a large audience Tuesday drew gasps of approval for Chet LeBlanc, the developer of nearby Chapel Hill residential community.

LeBlanc said he has bank financing lined up for the new building, and buyers for the condos that will range in price from $365,000 to $380,000. The high-end hotel rooms will be priced from $80 to $400 a night, depending on the season and room location, he said.

With two retail spaces and a lobby included, the four-story building comes to around 14,200 square feet. It will rise some 47 feet and cost between $2.5 million and $3 million to build.

LeBlanc clearly is well advanced with the plans. He showed off a scale model of the building, a framed artist's rendering, and color brochures he said will be used to market the facility nationally.

In response to a question, he said he has been talking with owners of the old theater about acquiring that as well, but added that's not in the picture at this time.

Traffic plans call for a one-way entry off Beach alongside the building, with parking in the rear and an exit onto State Street.

That construction is likely to start long before the public will see much change with the city's new parking lot. Closing on the purchase is several months away on that deal.

But Mayor Eddie Favre got council's approval to add the parking lot to the city's paving priority list, noting there are potholes that need to be filled in the lot.

The price tag for the purchase, the mayor said, is considerably less than what we had anticipated paying earlier, based on some appraisals that were done.

Favre said the city has $200,000 in the bank toward the purchase, proceeds from a past state Tidelands Trust grant.

The rest of the cost also will be covered by Tidelands money that's been approved for the project so far: a total of almost $450,000.

In related action Tuesday, council members authorized a new application for additional Tidelands funds, which are appropriated by the Legislature out of money that casinos pay to rent bottomlands.

Favre said this year the legislature took the unusual step of taking back $200,000 out of the total Tidelands appropriations — after it had designated it for grants in a bill that the governor already had signed. The reduction will be proportioned from all recipients' allocations, he said.

In other matters, council:

- Agreed to apply for state Traffic Improvement Program funds for a major upgrade of Washington Street, from Old Spanish Trail to Highway 90. The project will include sidewalks and drainage facilities, at an estimated cost of $100,000.

- Voted to ask Hancock County officials to "forgive" a $25,000 payment the city owes toward construction of the bike path. Favre said the city would use the money for other sidewalk construction along Old Spanish Trail.

- Learned that there may not be a public hearing called by the state on the issue of closing three railroad crossings. The city has received a letter saying the Mississippi Department of Transportation "may" schedule a hearing. City officials had thought such a hearing would be mandatory before any crossings could be closed.

CSX and MDOT want to close the Citizen, Sycamore and Toumoule street crossings. There is widespread public opposition to the idea, and the city has vowed to fight it vigorously.

- Agreed to send police to oversee property cleanup at a Citizen Street property owned by Chris Legarde. Officials said Legarde, who is an environmental aide to U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor, chased off the contractor that the city had hired to clear debris from the property.

- It's a battle that's been going on for years, including a court contest and later city demolition of a house on the tract — under protest by Legarde.

Tuesday, city attorney Don Rafferty said Legarde has hired an Ocean Springs attorney who is demanding the city provide a host of documents on the matter. But Rafferty said the same documents were provided long ago.

"All this is, is a delaying tactic," said Rafferty. Any attempt to block the city from having the property cleaned, he said, could result in an arrest. "All he is doing is just thumbing his nose at everybody," Rafferty said of Legarde.

Favre said the city will notify the contractor to proceed, and will have police on the scene as well.

- Set a special recessed meeting for Monday at 5:05 p.m. to begin a series of interviews with engineers concerning the $1 million reconstruction of Main Street. Since the city will be negotiating to select a firm, Favre said the meeting probably will be closed to the public.

DuPont -- emissions

plant $60,000 for the 15 years of violations last month.

The Tuesday board meeting, held in Jackson, was not a public hearing. However, a limited number of speakers was allowed to voice their opinions.

Nichols used her time to stress the plant's environmental safety record, including control technology and a program for voluntary reduced emissions. Nichols also mentioned a plan to use waste methane gas as a source of energy for the manufacturing process.

Nichols also addressed the issue of dioxin emissions and said that the plant releases only one-fiftieth of a teaspoon into the air each year. She said that land releases were unlikely to migrate to the air. The EPA's toxic registry lists the plant as the source of almost half of all the dioxins produced in the United States each year.

Mississippi State Sen. Deborah Dawkins said she was not clear as to why a retroactive permit would be approved when there has been a failure to comply with the law already. Dawkins said she was concerned about the numerous complaints she had received about the public hearing process where those in opposition to the permits were forced to wait for an hour or more to speak.

Dawkins also expressed concern that emissions would increase at the plant. She said voluntary agreements to reduce emissions were not forceful enough and not a guarantee that emissions would be reduced.

Gulf Coast Sierra Club Group Chairman Brenda Spongy called for the board to table the issue until the federal Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR) investigations into air and land emissions were completed. Spongy reiterated the state ment that she had made at last month's public hearing — that the Gulf Coast has the highest incidence of cancer in the state.

Unfortunately it is like the case with cigarettes, Spongy said on Wednesday.

"We know they are killing people but it will take time before it becomes more well known. Our goal now is to make the public aware and hold down any increases in pollution. A voluntary commitment to reducing pollution is useless — if it's a commitment, then make it a commitment, on paper. We are very disappointed with the decision."

Environmental activist Jerry Landrum said the decision was not totally unexpected.

"By the time these things get to public comment, the parties concerned have generally already made a decision," said Landrum. "I question if there is any real public participation."

Board member Andrew Whitehurst of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries abstained from the vote. DWF board member Jim Tuttle did not vote. An employee at the Jackson office of the MDEQ said Tuttle only votes on land and water issues. Mike Walker, representing the Department of Marine Resources, replaced the department's usual representative Jan Boyd, and voted for the permits. DMR said Boyd was out sick on Tuesday and unavailable for comment.

Whitehurst, who abstained from the vote, said that he was under the impression that the majority of the residents around the plant were opposed to the permits and believed that they were not being adequately protected. He said that of the 78 comment letters he had seen, 71 were in opposition to approving the permits.

Those opposing the decision will have 30 days to present their request to the board for an evidentiary hearing. The decision of the board at the evidentiary hearing may be appealed in Harrison County Chancery Court.

SBA offers tips to help businesses and homeowners prepare for hurricane season

With the beginning of the six-month Atlantic hurricane season, which runs from June 1 to Nov. 30, the U.S. Small Business Administration urges homeowners and businesses to plan and prepare for the worst-case scenario by taking steps in advance to minimize damage caused by these major storms.

The survival of a community can depend on the ability of businesses and homeowners to minimize the risks—wind damage and flooding—that accompany hurricanes.

In the aftermath of September's devastating Hurricane Isabel, which caused major damage to homes and businesses in Virginia, the District of Columbia, Maryland, North Carolina and Delaware, the SBA provided more than 8,200 low-interest loans worth $234 million. Power outages caused by fierce winds and inland flooding contributed to most of the property losses.

"Without a doubt, the impact of the storm could have been lessened if more people had prepared before the disaster," SBA Administrator Hector V. Barreto said. "Taking steps before a hurricane strikes will help people respond quicker and recover sooner."

Here are some hurricane preparedness tips for homes and businesses:

- Have a disaster plan in place. Find escape routes from the home or business and establish places to meet. Have on hand emergency phone numbers; business owners should designate a contact person who will communicate with other employees, customers and suppliers. Families should ask an out-of-state relative or friend to serve as the "family contact."

- Insurance. According to the National Flood Insurance Program, only 25 to 50 percent of U.S. homeowners in flood-prone areas have flood insurance. Flood damage is not usually covered by homeowners insurance. Business owners and individuals should review their insurance policies before the storm hits. Business interruption insurance—which replaces income lost during downtime caused by a covered peril—should be considered.

- Disaster survival kit. It should include a flashlight and extra batteries, portable, battery-operated radio and extra batteries, a first-aid kit, non-perishable packaged and canned food, water (a week's worth), a manual can opener, sturdy shoes, a basic tool kit, waterproof plastic bags, and cash.

- Important business records should be stored at an off-site location at least 50 miles away. Computer data should be backed up, saved on diskettes or CD-Roms and stored off-site.

- Windows. Install storm shutters over all exposed windows and other glass surfaces in the home or business. Plywood shutters—1/2-inch marine plywood is best—also offer protection from flying debris.

The SBA makes low-interest disaster loans to homeowners, renters and non-farm businesses of all sizes. Homeowners may borrow up to $200,000 to repair or replace damaged real estate. Individuals may borrow up to $40,000 to cover losses to personal property.

Non-farm businesses and non-profit organizations of any size may apply for up to $1.5 million to repair or replace business assets. Small businesses that suffered economic losses may apply for a working capital loan of up to $1.5 million, even if the property was not physically damaged.

During fiscal 2003, the SBA approved more than 25,800 disaster loans for $85 million.

Public relations staff wins 16 awards

Pearl River Community College's public relations staff captured 16 awards, including four first-place awards, in annual competition sponsored by the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi (CPRAM).

The public relations staff also won nine second-place awards and three third-place awards. PRCC competes in the junior college division of CPRAM, which is open to all 15 community/junior colleges across the state.

Senior college staff compete in a separate division. The awards were presented during CPRAM's annual spring meeting this month in Natchez for work performed in 2003.

The PRCC award winners are:

First place: News Story, "Former student gives PRCC $3.75 million," Chuck

Abadie, a news story on the school's biggest donation in history.

First place: Sports Stories, "PRCC soccer teams take aim at state," Chuck Abadie.

First place: Color Photography, "String of Pearls," Mitch Deaver.

First place: Television Spots, "PRCC Recruitment Commercial," Chuck Abadie and Ronn Hague.

Second place: News Story, "Some 250 attend ATC groundbreaking ceremony," Chuck Abadie.

Second place: Institutional Magazine, "PRCC RiverSide," Chuck Abadie, Mitch Deaver, Pam Luke, Ronn Hague and Kenny Russell.

Second place: Newsletter category, "RiverTEC," (Forrest County Center), Pam Luke and Chuck Abadie.

Second place: "Annual

Advertisements, "Come Join a Winning Team," Ronn Hague.

Second place: Single piece of artwork, "The Message is...," Chuck Abadie and Ronn Hague.

Second place: Color Photography, "Soccer Action," Mitch Deaver.

Second place: Digital/Art Photography, "Chapel Ground Breaking," Ronn Hague.

Second place: Television Programs, "A Very Wildcat Christmas," Ronn Hague.

Second place: Public Relations Innovations, "Pearl River Community College Experience," Chuck Abadie and Ronn Hague.

Third place: News Story, "GED classes offer adults better life," Pam Luke.

Third place: Admissions and Recruitment Piece, Chuck Abadie and Ronn Hague.

Third place: Annual Report, "2002-2003 Annual Report," PRCC public relations staff.

"It's outstanding for our staff to receive high awards in competition with our colleagues at other community/junior colleges in the state," said Chuck Abadie, Director of Public Relations at PRCC. "It speaks well of the information product PRCC offers daily to the public. Everyone on the staff has worked hard this year and they deserve recognition."

Hague, a Petal native and 1999 PRCC graduate, is the school's webmaster and yearbook advisor. Deaver, a Purvis native and 1975 PRCC graduate, is assistant director of public relations and Dixie Drawl advisor. Luke is public relations assistant, and Russell is a compositor-printer at PRCC.

Gaming experts recommend casinos target over 50 group

BY LYNDY EDWARDS
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Casinos regarded gamblers over age 50 as core customers even when Elvis was swiveling his hips across Las Vegas stages.

But now, as the baby boomer bulge blimp its way into retirement, marketers are encountering a new breed of senior citizen. And the old marketing rule book doesn't apply.

"When you pitch ads to baby boomers, do not address them as senior citizens because this is a generation that ages rebelliously," Harrah's marketing vice president Holly Way told a Southern Gaming Summit audience in Biloxi.

"The age 50 plus demographic holds two thirds of the household wealth in the U.S. so it's worth learning how to pitch to them," she said.

Way urged the audience to look to AARP's current television ads for guidance.

"This is the nation's biggest retired persons association and they don't mention retirees in the dialogue," she said.

And the actors in the ads look like they are in their 40s, she said.

Boomers became seniors in the late 1990s when the first tip of the baby boom hit 50. Way and other gaming industry pros shared tips during a Thursday session of the conference.

"Seniors account for 80 percent of all U.S. travel but they don't like to go places alone," said Jack Jagunich, president and COO of Casino Magic-Bay St. Louis.

"If you're having an event for them, make sure you budget guest tickets. Seniors gamble for the social aspect."

G.A. Wright Marketing director Jack Breslin said that social currency prompts the over-50 crowd to choose one casino over another.

"They like to chat with the cashier, the coffee shop girl, the slot attendants and that can weigh on your staff's time," Breslin said.

The payoff, Breslin said, is loyalty because the senior crowd sticks with the friendliest casino.

He implored casinos to create the right ambience for the target market.

"I've been in casinos at 9 a.m. Tuesday mornings when no one playing the slots is under age 60 but they've got Nine Inch Nails pounding through the PA system," Breslin said.

A better choice for the older gamblers would be Tony Bennett or famed senior citizens Mick Jagger and the Rolling Stones.

While aging baby boomers love edgy ads, art directors were warned that aging eyes cannot read blue or purple tinted type as easily as orange, yellow and red lettering.

Breslin said marketers finally realize that the silver-haired demographic commands as much discretionary income as the coveted 21- to 49-year-old demographic.

"But not all silver turns to gold because they are cost conscious gamblers," he said. "If it takes 100 points to win a free seat at the buffet, they play 100 points and no more."

That frugality often stems from survival instinct, not a lifestyle choice, said Boomtown Casino-Biloxi's Chett Harrison.

"The economy has been improving but not for seniors," Harrison said.

One of his casinos regulars relies on interest paid on her CDs.

"She was getting $1,700 per month in interest payments and that has dropped to $400 per month," Harrison said.

The Russian AN-124, the largest production aircraft in the world, flew into Stennis International Airport on Monday to pick up a Lockheed Martin satellite for transport to California. The aircraft, owned by Russian air freight company Volga-Dnepr, was manned by a crew of sixteen. The planes are used all over the world for cargo too large or too sensitive to be hauled by truck or train.

'Families First' begins weekly meetings

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Hancock County Families First Resource Center, 125 Main Street, Suite E, Bay St. Louis, is a community service, providing families, schools, and the community with education, emotional support, and resources to promote healthy family functioning.

Services include case management programs and a variety of parent education classes. The center announces the following upcoming events, listed below. In some cases, pre-registration may be required. Call the office at (228) 463-0000 for more information.

The Parent Support Group will begin weekly meetings at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Diamondhead, on Monday night, June 14, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Group discussions will focus on issues relating to parenting and families. This service is free and open to all in the community every Monday evening.

Another Active Parenting Class will begin on July 6. This nine-week session is held on Tuesdays from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. every week. These classes are offered free of charge to those referred by DHS or the courts. Pre-registration is required.

Foster and Adoptive Parenting Training is given monthly at the Center. These classes provide credits to foster and adoptive parents for continued DHS accreditation and are free of charge. The next class at the Center is scheduled for June 17 from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m., and then again on July 15.

Transparenting Classes is an educational program designed to teach effective parenting during transitions of divorce or parental separation. There is a $50 charge for this course, and it consists of one four-hour session. The next class will be held at the Center on June 24th from 6:00 - 10:00 p.m.

Anger Management Classes are presented throughout the year. The class is for adults only and is free of charge. It consists of one four-hour session. The next class scheduled at the Center is on June 28th from 6:00 - 10:00 p.m.

Case management services are available to assist families with parenting skills, child development, health and nutrition, household management and community resources for housing, transportation and counseling. Referrals are accepted from the community. Welcome Baby is a service for first-time parents, while High Risk Youth and Parent Aide work with children and families.

The Families First Resource Center is a community service of The Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse, 3201 D Avenue, Gulfport, MS 39507, (228) 868-8686. Please call Families First Resource Center for more information at 463-0000.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Bev Marshall is an "extraordinary storyteller," wrote Publishers Weekly in a starred review for her new novel, Right as Rain. Marshall is the fourth author to highlight the Hancock County Library System's Authors & Characters @ Your Library series.

Marshall will be in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Tuesday, June 15, at 11:45 a.m.

Marshall grew up in McComb and Gulfport. She holds degrees from the University of Mississippi and Southeastern Louisiana University, where she taught in the English Department.

Her short stories have appeared in Xavier Review, Potpouri, Maryland Review, Stories from the Blue Moon Café, Vol. 1, and a college textbook, Acts of Discovery.

Her first novel, Walking Through Shadows, was a Featured Alternate Selection of the Literary Guild, a finalist for the Florida Parishes Regional Arts Award for Literature, and was selected by the Times Picayune as one of the best debut novels of 2002.

Right as Rain is the heartfelt story of two African American women, their families and the white family who employs them as they steer their way through life in the Deep South from 1950 to 1968. The book has been hailed as being in the tradition of Fried Green Tomatoes at the Whistle Stop Café and The Secret Life of Bees.

The program is open to the public. Lunch is available for $5 with advance reservations. To reserve your lunch or obtain more information, call Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

TEN YEARS AGO

June 9, 1994 - Bay St. Louis Officials were asked Monday to study the local water system to see if it needs substantial upgrading. Council member Charles Scinna noted that water service had temporarily been interrupted several times during the last three or four months. He questioned whether such failures are due to inadequate equipment or a need for additional water towers. Public Works Director Ronnie Vanney said the most recent service outages were caused by improper installation of a probe within one of the two city's water towers.

The Hancock County School Board had a number of action items on its agenda for their Monday, June 5, meeting. The board with the exception of Larry Peterson, voted to employ Rocky Gaudin as secondary teacher and head football coach at Hancock Junior-Senior High School for the coming school year. Members welcomed the former Hancock County assistant coach back to the system. He had left to become head football coach at Bay High.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

June 7, 1984 - A Chilles Rubber Raft and a 5 hp Yamaha outboard motor has been donated to the Waveland Police Department by Dr. and Mrs. Herbert LeBourgeois and daughter Renee. Donald Dorn, chief of police, on Tuesday said, "We are very happy to have the rescue boat which can very easily be handled by two people. It can be launched anywhere along the beach in times when a person or persons are needing immediate assistance."

Mrs. Jean Fredericks of Baton Rouge and her "Hot Lips Chili" team were double winners in the Bay St. Louis Beachfront Festival Chili Cook-off Sunday. The Fredericks team took both championship and first place trophies. Cash prizes were also awarded. Second place went to Joe Rapp of Bay St. Louis and the "Outlaws Chili" team. Elwood Kerner of Diamondhead and his "Talk of the Town Chili" team placed third. Chairmen of the event were Bill and Mary Quinn of Bay St. Louis.

FORTY YEARS AGO

June 4, 1964 - A request to four-lane U.S. 90 from its intersection with Highway 43 (603) to the Louisiana line as a safety measure was transmitted Monday by the board of supervisors to

Second Saturday

Artwalk
in Bay St.
Louis is
June 12

EXTRA SPECIAL

The downtown Bay St. Louis merchants invite you to join them for Second Saturday Artwalk 2004. From 5-8 p.m., there will be live music, artists' receptions, refreshments and late evening shopping. Come early, eat at one of our excellent restaurants, pick up a map of Old Town and plan your evening of visiting galleries and shopping in our interesting stores. There are more than 40 galleries, shops and restaurants for your enjoyment.

HOT SPOTS

CHESSY'S 110S.
BEACH BLVD: The featured artist at Chessy's will be William Ludwig a premier bronze sculptor from Albany, Louisiana. Mr. Ludwig received his MSA from Tulane University in New Orleans. His cast bronze sculptures have been shown in several one man shows in New Orleans Galleries. He has also been the visiting artist at Universities in Louisiana, Florida and Georgia. At his studio foundry in Albany, LA he does castings for several other artists.

SATURDAY - PAGE 4B

An "underwater abstract" by Louisiana artists Amy G. Kramer.

Art & the Environment

Loft Studios on Main Street in Bay St. Louis will feature self-taught artist Amy G. Kramer for Second Saturday.

Kramer lives in Louisiana, where she works as an environmental consultant with a bachelor of science degree in engineering from Louisiana State University. She has studied pottery, acrylic and oil painting in many formal and informal settings.

Her colorful and energetic acrylic abstracts typically depict her passion for the ocean and the garden. Her current works on display at Loft Studios are large underwater blues and greens with reds and colorful florals.

Loft Studios will be open Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and will host a reception from 5-8 p.m., where Kramer will meet with the public. The Loft also features the works of about 40 other artists in several different media.

Fiber artist Valerie Wozniak - whose work here is modeled by Pat Salk - will be featured at Quarter Moon for Second Saturday.

Painter's exhibit is 'Gone to the Dogs'

EXTRA SPECIAL

Anne Lynch, who is best known for her cat and dog portraits on river rock, will be the featured artist at Serenity Gallery for Bay St. Louis' Second Saturday on June 12.

Anne will be showing her oil on canvas paintings of Big White Dogs.

Having painted animal rocks for Neiman Marcus, Gumps, Harrods of London and many other galleries, she had little time left for painting on canvas until recently. Anne, who received her art training at the Royal School of Art in England, has seldom shown her canvases which have been sold privately.

Her life time love has been animals, which have always been her main subject.

Serenity Gallery will display at least a dozen large paintings of white dogs on a white background, also included will be a surprise piece (not a cat). If you love dogs, try to make the showing. You will also enjoy the Bay St. Louis 2nd Saturday from 5 p.m. - 8 p.m. on June 12.

Japanese silk that's worth 'dyeing' for

Quarter Moon Gallery in Bay St. Louis will be featuring the work of fiber artist Valerie Wozniak during this month's Second Saturday Artwalk on June 12. Wozniak, a retired social worker, has been studying Shibori dyeing since 1990. Shibori is an ancient Japanese technique of applying color and pattern to fabric. She has studied with Yashika Wada and Ana Lisa Hedstrom, two prominent artists in the medium. Wozniak works primarily with silk, and begins with white fabric. She paints the fabric with a variety of colors and patterns. The silk is folded, pleated, sewn into various shapes and bound with string or rubber bands. These "packets" of fabric are then discharged of their excess color, and re-dyed in another color. Wozniak uses

University Researchers visit Gulfview

Educators and employees with the University of Memphis' Center for Research and Educational Policy recently visited Gulfview Elementary to administer examinations as part of the Success for All program.

Students in grades 1, 2, 4 and 5 took part in the Gates-McGinuity test which will help school administrators compare student performance from year to year. LaRuth Lofties with the University of Memphis reported that testing was taking place at designated sites across the United States to obtain data in both a controlled and non-controlled school setting. Researchers from the University will return next year to complete the final phase of the three year program.

Adams accepted into Academic Program

Miranda Adams, a student at 2nd Street Elementary School, has been accepted into the People to People World Leadership Forum. Adam will join a select group of students in Washington, D.C., March 14-20, 2005 to earn high school credit while studying leadership and exploring some of the United States' most prominent monuments and institutions.

From Capitol Hill to the Smithsonian Institute, and from Colonial Williamsburg to the National Museum of American History, Adams will examine the characteristics of American leadership during times of national challenge and prosperity.

The program is coordinated by People to People Student Ambassador Programs to fulfill the vision Dwight D. Eisenhower had for fostering world citizenship when he founded People to People during his presidency in 1956.

Miranda is the daughter of Doug and Dianne T. Adams of Bay St. Louis. She is the granddaughter of Helene Adams and Ollie Mae Yarborough of Waveland.

She was nominated for this program by Mrs. Kathy Morgan, a teacher at Second Street Elementary School in Bay St. Louis.

BUTTERFLY HOUSE — Seven-year-old Callyn Espy of St. Martin helps educators and interns release butterflies and ladybugs into a new butterfly habitat exhibit at The University of Southern Mississippi's Scott Aquarium in Biloxi. A living classroom, the butterfly house will introduce participants in the aquarium's Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp to the biology of insects that live in and migrate through coastal habitats.

Scott Aquarium interns create 'Butterfly House' for Sea Camp

THE SEA COAST ECHO

A new butterfly house is on the itinerary for sea campers at The University of Southern Mississippi's Scott Aquarium.

Scott Aquarium educator and scientist Dr. Shelia Brown and her team of college interns put the finishing touches on the butterfly habitat exhibit in preparation for the Monday, June 7, opening of Project Marine Discovery Sea Camp, the popular marine sciences day camp held for ages 5-16 at the aquarium each summer.

The exhibit features a screened-in, outdoor space full of living plants and a variety of insects in various life stages. Two dozen monarch and painted lady butterflies, caterpillars, praying mantis egg cases and about 1,500 ladybugs are helping create the living classroom. The new exhibit will immerse children in the real world of insects that live in or migrate through local coastal environments.

"Our interns have done a remarkable job," Brown said. She said Charmain Chatman of Biloxi and Tameka Colston of Gulfport were awarded the internship during their final year at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, Jefferson Davis campus.

Their work at the aquarium includes three semester hours credit through the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's Summer Field Program and is a prelude to the next stage of their education. They are enrolling at Southern Miss Gulf Coast for the fall semester. Their internships also move them closer to their career goals focused on education. Colston has set her sights on a career in informal education programs similar to those at the aquarium. Chatman wants to become an educator in the biological sciences.

The minority internships are funded by the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium as part of the Gulf of Mexico region's Center for Ocean Sciences Education Excellence, headquartered at the aquarium.

In addition to the butterfly house visits and activities, campers will also encounter other new hands-on experiences to complement field trips, computer labs and art activities. Campers will close each week with a "Birthday Blast" carnival to celebrate Scott Aquarium's 20th birthday.

The five-day sessions are repeated each week of June 7 through July 30 with the exception of July 19-23. Sessions for five-year-old campers run from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Hours for all other ages are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Costs per week are age 5, $70; ages 6-7, $120; ages 8-14, $135; ages 15-16, $150.

For registration information, call (228) 374-5550, e-mail a i scott.aquarium@usm.edu or visit www.usm.edu/aquarium/pmdsecamp.htm.

Adopt-A-Pet

Please be a responsible pet owner - spay or neuter your pets. Remember to give your pets plenty of water and a shelter to keep cool during the summer months and please don't leave your pets unattended. But most of all, give your pets lots of love and attention. After all, it is a small price to pay for all that they give you.

These pets are available for adoption at the Waveland Animal Hospital, 322 Gulfside Street, 467-0000.

Hancock Vo-Tech Center Sr. Appreciation Breakfast

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Nearly 150 Hancock County Vocational Technical Center 12th grade students attended a Senior Appreciation Breakfast held on May 4 at the Hungry Hawks Café. Vo-Tech Cooperative Education Instructor Sandra Cole welcomed the student and presented National Technical Honor Society cords. Wanda Freeland, Director of the WIN Job Center in Gulfport, was the keynote speaker. Freeland shared valuable and insightful information entitled the "Secret Success Formula" learned from Hudson's Salvage founder Bill Hudson with the students. These graduating seniors will soon be seeking employment, furthering their education, or joining the military. Following the keynote address and breakfast that was prepared by Jeanie Ballard's Culinary Arts class, Superintendent of Education David Kopf provided closing remarks in which he praised the students for years of hard work and commitment to educational excellence.

Coast Episcopal School Starbase Field Trip

Fifth and sixth grade students from Coast Episcopal School recently completed a week long course with Starbase Atlantis. For five days, the children traveled to the Seabee base in Gulfport. Among the many fun activities the students experienced, some highlights were: learning physics by watching demonstrations performed by Starbase teachers, visiting the AVCRAD facility in Gulfport, riding on a homemade hovercraft, viewing a starry sky in the Starlab, and running a flight simulator. They designed restraints for raw eggs to ride in a shuttle and then launched the model to see if their design worked. This fun-filled week culminated in building and launching rockets.
